The European Delirium Association Annual Meeting

The Met Hotel, King Street, Leeds LS1 2HQ, England

Delirium is one of the most common conditions found in general hospitals, and brings poor outcomes for individuals and organisations alike. This congress programme is designed to provide a comprehensive overview of current thinking about delirium, including basic science, epidemiology, treatment, prevention, research design, and service models that can improve delirium management. There is a mixture of lecture sessions and practical workshops with delirium experts sharing their skills and expertise.

The European Delirium Association (EDA) is the first international association to specialise in delirium clinical practice and research. It was formed in 2006 in order to promote better clinical care of delirium, to provide an international forum for the exchange of information on delirium, and to promote the development of education and basic and applied research in the field of delirium.

The full programme will be available shortly on our website at www.andrewsimscentre.nhs.uk or www.europeandeliriumassociation.com
